Otis Bass, who went to Bridger, Mont., from Box Butte county, was visiting friends and attending to some business connected with the sale of land here the latter part of this week. M. L. Whitaker of the Canton neighborhood informed us last week that he milks sixteen cows, shipping the cream to the Alliance creamery. At present he milks sixteen cows, uses a separator and churns butter which he sells to regular customers at a price that pays him well for his work.

Serum Experiments Begun at South Omaha Stock Yards.

THIRTY SHOATS AWAIT FATE.

Eighteen Healthy Hogs Treated With Serum and Put in Pen With Four Sick Ones—Eight Animals Not Treated Also Added—Results to Be Shown at State Fair.

Omaha, Aug. 2.—Hog cholera is to be a thing of the past in Nebraska, if a movement now being strongly urged by President F. C. Crocker of the Nebraska Swine Breeders' association succeeds.

To interest the swine breeders and growers of the state in the serum treatment, Mr. Crocker and General Manager Buckingham of the Union Stock Yards company of South Omaha have arranged with the bureau of animal industry of the department of agriculture at Washington to conduct the most extensive experiments in the use of serum ever conducted in the state, and the results of these experiments will be shown at the Nebraska state fair.

Under the direction of Dr. Niles of the government station at Ames, Ia., the experiments have begun at the Union Stock yards in South Omaha, Mr. Buckingham furnishing the hogs.

The first thirty shoats which may be sacrificed to science were furnished by the stock yards company July 23. They were as healthy specimens as the farms of Nebraska ever produced. Four of them were given shots of blood from cholera hogs. Within five days these four were very ill with the cholera.

Eighteen of the healthy hogs were then treated with serum and put in a pen with the ill hogs—the hogs with well developed cases of cholera. Eight hogs which had not been treated were also put in with the sick ones.

Thirty Shoats Await Fate.

Now thirty valuable shoats await their fate. The four hogs given the cholera will die sure. The eight unprotected hogs also stand a good chance of dying with cholera, while the eighteen given the serum treatment and made immune should survive, refuse to catch the disease and make good prize winning hogs.

If this experiment proves successful the eighteen hogs rescued from a cholera death will be taken to Lincoln and exhibited at the state fair. Another pen of hogs will go through the same treatment and all visitors to the stock yards will have an opportunity to see the experimental work, while those who see the eighteen shoats at the state fair will have a chance to see how the cholera is going to be stamped out.

President Crocker of the Swine Breeders' association says there is still a great deal of doubt among the farmers as to whether the serum will do the work and the association is anxious to demonstrate to every Nebraska farmer that hog cholera will become a thing of the past if every grower will give the work some attention.

AUTO SCORCHERS PAY FINES

Six Violate Speed Regulations at Fremont.

Fremont, Neb., Aug. 1.—Three automobile drivers drew fines for speeding in the police court and there are three more to come up today, with the probability of still others. Mrs. Mattie Wall was found guilty of speeding on Fifth street and drew $25 and costs; George Robertson, an Omaha man, admitted that he had been a little too reckless, but tried to excuse himself on the ground that it was very late and few people on the street. He got $10 and costs. Guy Kelley acknowledged that he had violated the ordinance and contributed $24.30 to the city. James Shepard pleaded not guilty and Luther Larson and Chris Hansen were out of the city.

The automobile law has been a dead letter here, not only in regard to speeding, but running without lights and without numbers on the rear of the car. Chief Peterson has had a special man out keeping tab on the speeders and a wonderful difference is noticeable in the way cars are now run around town.

SUN HATCHES YOUNG CHICKS

Mother Hen Dies From Heat and Old Sol Brings Chickens From Shell.

Beatrice, Neb., Aug. 1.—Hatching chickens in the sun is an unusual occurrence, but Mrs. Herman Bittings reported that ten chicks were hatched at her place by the sun. The mother hen had died two days ago from heat, and Mrs. Bittings put the eggs in the sun. Two days later she was surprised to find that ten chicks hatched from fourteen eggs.

Annual Pow-Wow of Omaha Indians.

Walthill, Neb., Aug. 1.—The Omaha Indians are going into camp for their annual pow-wow. The largest camp will be on the hill five miles from Walthill. Dances of different descriptions will take place and old time customs will be performed. There will be an old-time parade on horseback, such as used to take place when starting on the warpath or on the buffalo hunt. Many Indians from South Dakota and Oklahoma are already here waiting.

HELD FOR KILLING SISTER

Hired Man Gives Details of Murder Which He Says He Witnessed.

Poncha, Neb., Aug. 1.—The dog, which tried to protect the sister from the hands of her brother, William Flegge, kept her dead body away from the hogs after she had been killed by her brother, according to the testimony of the hired man, Al Eichtenkamp, in the preliminary hearing of the case of William Flegge, charged with the murder of his sister.

Flegge was bound over to the district court and his bail fixed at $15,000, which was furnished by his two brothers, his brother-in-law and himself.

The hired man told the story of the killing as he said he saw it with his own eyes. He said that he saw Flegge and his sister come down from the porch and walk to the front gate. He said they were quarreling and when they reached the front gate the dog interfered and Flegge kicked him so that he ran under the porch.

Eichtenkamp said that he saw Flegge grab his sister by the shoulder and just as he was entering the barn door he heard a shot and turning, saw Louise on her knees. He said that he walked a little farther into the barn and then heard a second shot and when he again turned he saw Louise lying on the ground.

The hired man said he went to the fields to cultivate corn and when he returned Louise was still lying in the front yard and that the dog which had tried to protect her when alive was still guarding her while dead.

INDIANS GET NEW RIGHTS

Over Two Hundred Winnebagoes Allowed to Lease Their Own Lands.

Winnebago, Neb., Aug. 1.—During a part of last year and the early months of 1910 a competency commission was at work at the agency of the Omaha tribe of Indians in Thurston county. They were classifying the Indians with reference to their advancement in civilization and their consequently ability to conduct their own affairs independent of departmental control.

Some were given full and free possession of their land and property, others were given the right to lease their lands and collect the rentals outside the office, subject only to the approval of the local superintendent, a third class still have their land and moneys held in trust for them. These Indians have met the demands of citizenship in such a way that the plan has been extended by the Indian office to include a class of Winnebagoes. Authority has just been received granting to 214 members of this tribe the right to lease their own lands.

SIX CAR RIDES FOR QUARTER

City of Havelock Wins Its Suit Against Traction Company.

Lincoln, Aug. 1.—After many months of consideration the state railway commission decided the case wherein the city of Havelock asked for a fare of six tickets for a quarter from the Lincoln Traction company, the same rate enjoyed by the other suburbs of this city. Havelock secured its contention and in addition the commission ordered the traction company to keep separate accounts of the earnings and expenses of its various organizations, including heat, light and power. The order may have some effect on the occupation tax levied by the city council, that being dependent, however, upon the showing made by the company later.

Epworth Assembly Aug. 3.

Lincoln, Aug. 1.—The Epworth assembly will open its annual meeting at Epworth park, Aug. 3. This year tickets will be punched at the gate and taken up when the party leaves the ground. This change was made so that persons who are camping on the grounds will not have to be waked up each morning to show their tickets. The price of season tickets has been increased from $1 to $1.50.

Suit Not Yet Filed.

Lincoln, July 30.—Attorney General Thompson has not yet filed that ouster suit against the Republican members of the Omaha board of fire and police commissioners which he was instructed to do by the governor. Mr. Thompson is looking into the complaint filed with him, but before he goes into court he will ask Mr. Karbach to swear to the things he set out in the complaint.

Another Beer Raid.

Lincoln, Aug. 1.—Another raid was made by the police on a South Ninth street house and a quantity of beer and other liquors was confiscated. Three arrests were made, a man, his wife and daughter. The police are working overtime to shut up the joints in Lincoln and raids are of frequent occurrence.

Kentuckian Slain by Night Riders.

Peduncub, Ky., Aug. 2.—Night riders shot and killed Tom Cooper, a relative of Milton Oliver, the state's chief witness in the night rider cases to be tried this fall.

Mrs. W. B. Parker and daughter, Gladys, had a very pleasant outing last week attending the North Platte Valley chauntiqua at Scottsbluff, from Wednesday to Friday.
